Product description

The garden season can come! The TICINO Buffet, an addition to the TICINO series by designer Carsten Gollnick, made of weather-resistant HPL invites you to let the preparation, draping and serving of finger food, drinks & Co. take place outside in good weather. Ample storage space, optional wooden cutting board and stainless steel containers for cooling drinks with ice or for herbs complete the concept. A dish towel can also be hung from the matching bar. Inside the buffet, there is ample storage space for placing beverage crates.

Cook in the garden, serve in the garden, eat together and communicate - Look forward to spring with the new outdoor kitchen from conmoto. Designed as a modular system, the TICINO kitchen frame can be freely designed according to your individual wishes. From different basic and additional modules, as well as material alternatives the most different cook, work and seat areas can be arranged.

High-quality and weather-resistant materials are used, which allow the outdoor kitchen to be used all year round. The countertop is made of durable ceramic and is available in two decors. The frame is made of black coated stainless steel and the slats of the lower shelf are made of solid smoked oak. A proven HPL compact board is used for the upper structure and drawers.

about Conmoto

Conmoto design furniture

In reference to a measure of time used by composers, "conmoto" describes the tempo of a musical movement and means "in motion". It transports the claim to the dynamics and development of the company, which is aptly reflected in the company claim Soundful Living.

Johannes Wagner founded conmoto in 1997. His first product: stainless steel fireplace cutlery. His goal was to offer cutlery that was both functional and beautiful.

The assortment and the field of activity of conmoto has expanded considerably in the last 20 years. Not only has conmoto expanded its collaboration with renowned designers and produces the highest-quality designer furniture for indoor and outdoor use, for several years the company has also been active in the project sector, developing holistic room concepts for major clients ranging from The Ritz Carlton to Rolls Royce and Borussia Mönchengladbach. Since 2019, the company owns its own manufactory near Münster in which a large proportion of its own products are manufactured.

Johannes Wagner - founder and managing director of conmoto - has always remained true to his goal and philosophy of combining functionality with beauty.

Conmoto stands for timeless designs and the highest quality - from the materials used to the workmanship.
