Product description

The CONMOTO folding table RIVA is a timeless design classic for outdoor and indoor use, combining functionality, aesthetics and quality in perfect form. Created by design duo Schweiger & Viererbl, the fold-out dining table impresses with its clear, purist design language, which blends harmoniously into any modern architecture and yet stands on its own. Thanks to its intelligent folding function, the rectangular table can be extended on both sides - from 200 cm to up to 344 cm - and thus offers flexible seating for up to twelve people. In combination with the matching RIVA benches, a stylish ensemble is created that not only impresses with its appearance, but also with its high level of seating comfort. If required, the benches can be pushed under the table to save space.

Made from high-quality, weatherproof HPL and finished with stainless steel screws, the folding table is particularly durable, scratch-resistant, UV-resistant and easy to clean. Whether in the sun, rain or snow - the RIVA table is made for all weather conditions. Available in white and anthracite and in two sizes, it blends perfectly into modern gardens, terraces or spacious living areas. With its straightforward, understated design, the table always looks high-quality and stylish, whether decorated or used in a deliberately minimalist way. If you also want to protect your RIVA table from environmental influences such as pollen, dirt or frost, you can add a custom-fit protective cover made of breathable, UV-resistant and washable polyamide. This will keep your favorite piece of furniture looking flawless for years to come.

about Conmoto

Conmoto design furniture

In reference to a measure of time used by composers, "conmoto" describes the tempo of a musical movement and means "in motion". It transports the claim to the dynamics and development of the company, which is aptly reflected in the company claim Soundful Living.

Johannes Wagner founded conmoto in 1997. His first product: stainless steel fireplace cutlery. His goal was to offer cutlery that was both functional and beautiful.

Product information

The assortment and the field of activity of conmoto has expanded considerably in the last 20 years. Not only has conmoto expanded its collaboration with renowned designers and produces the highest-quality designer furniture for indoor and outdoor use, for several years the company has also been active in the project sector, developing holistic room concepts for major clients ranging from The Ritz Carlton to Rolls Royce and Borussia Mönchengladbach. Since 2019, the company owns its own manufactory near Münster in which a large proportion of its own products are manufactured.

Johannes Wagner - founder and managing director of conmoto - has always remained true to his goal and philosophy of combining functionality with beauty.

Conmoto stands for timeless designs and the highest quality - from the materials used to the workmanship.
