Product description

UHLMANN Type TX - square parasol 5.5×5.5 m - windproof & reinforced

The UHLMANN Type TX 5.5×5.5 m is one of the largest and most robust parasols in the entire TX series - designed for extreme conditions and impressive dimensions. With its sturdy construction, solid 110 mm pole and square format, this large parasol is ideal for extensive outdoor areas, exposed roof terraces and wind-prone locations.

Thanks to its reinforced aluminum structure, the TX type belongs to UHLMANN's strong wind class. Every detail, from the pivot point to the roof strut, has been developed for maximum stability. Even at wind speeds of over 100 km/h, the sunshade remains safe and dimensionally stable - tested and proven in the wind tunnel. This makes it the first choice for hotels, restaurants, rooftop bars and event areas where reliability is crucial.

The high-quality Sunacryl® cover is made of spinneret-dyed acrylic fabric that is UV-resistant, water-repellent and dirt-repellent. The color brilliance is retained for many years - even under intense sunlight or in salty air. The TX 5.5×5.5 m thus combines technical strength with elegant design and a prestigious appearance.

It is easy to operate using a precise hand crank or a crank pin, specially developed for large sunshade surfaces. Despite its size, the sunshade opens and closes smoothly - proof of the art of engineering made in Germany.

UHLMANN also offers this large sunshade as a made-to-measure sun shade. The size, color, frame surface and accessories (such as radiant heaters or LED lighting) can be individually adapted to perfectly meet architectural concepts and design requirements. The result is a unique sunshade that not only offers protection, but also conveys style and value.

Various fastening systems are available for secure installation - from ground sockets set in concrete to dowelled base plates - for maximum wind safety on any surface, whether at ground level or at roof height.

UHLMANN type TX 5.5×5.5 m - the wind-resistant premium large sunshade for extreme locations. For roof terraces, hotels and restaurants - individually manufactured, durable and 100% Made in Germany.
